
Campus Beautification Fund

Admissions surveys at many colleges and universities have reported again and again that both students and their families evaluate institutions heavily on the basis of their beauty. The “look” of a campus sends a strong message to students about the values we convey beyond the classroom.

The Huckins Sculpture was built by Don and Betty Huckins in memory of Rose and Alvin Huckins

Campus beautification can mean a landscaping plan, the redesign of areas critical to student life (cafeteria, quad, meeting rooms, etc.), the re-painting of high traffic buildings, or merely the removal of unsightly and non-operating equipment. All of this requires financial support beyond the annual appropriation – or even the successful bond measure.

The Marysville Campus Beautification Fund sends a message, not only one that speaks to the beauty of our campus, but the very values we wish to convey to our students, our alumni and our community.
