
Library/LRC Fund

The Library/Learning Resource Center Fund has proven to be immensely important in supporting students throughout the District. Library and LRC funds are set up for every campus and provide their libraries with support for periodicals, reserve books, Internet licenses, and software for students to meet curricular needs.

Of special importance is the Library Reserve Book component of these funds. With the cost of specialized textbooks often exceeding $100 per copy, the ability to purchase such books for the Reserve Room allows students to save thousands of dollars over the course of completing an academic degree. This can mean the difference between graduating and stopping out – or even dropping out all together. This is a critical avenue of student support and deserves your consideration.
