Hi there,

I wanted to personally reach out to invite you to our upcoming focus groups that we are holding later this month! This is a pivotal time for Woodland Community College, and I would be honored if you joined myself and our District Chancellor on Zoom for just a few hours.

We have scheduled a separate session dedicated just for our community around your area.

Yuba Community College District and Woodland Community College are developing a new long-term strategic plan

Having served as College President this last year, we have embraced immense change, and we have risen to the challenge of meeting our students' needs. However, I know we can do more—we must be bold to embrace the future long term, but we can't do it alone.

We are also excited to have partnered with Institute for the Future (ITF), a non-profit think tank, to help us formulate our strategy, guide our planning process, and develop a robust vision for our college.

Will you join me in our focus group this February?

Our discussion will be hosted by myself and Doug Houston, our District Chancellor. We may email a few readings to you beforehand, but there is no other preparation necessary.

We will be discussing topics such as:

- The future of our communities
- The long-term impacts of COVID-19
- How higher education can more effectively advance the educational needs of our region

It is vital that the students of 2030 know that by entering our doors (physically or virtually) they will dramatically increase their life opportunities and success.

We are incredibly excited about the possibilities in store for the years ahead. I look forward to seeing you later this month and hearing your valuable feedback!

Sincerely,
Dr. Art Pimentel

Engage in a conversation with us as we plan for the students of 2030.

- » Who are the college students of 2030 and what are their needs?
- » What is the future of teaching and learning?
- » What does the higher-education environment look like post Covid-19?
- » How will our college fulfill our evolving mission?
- » How does WCC transform the lives of our students and the futures of the communities we serve?

We are seeking community input as we craft a new 10-year strategic plan to guide the district and colleges in supporting our communities for the next 20-30 years.

As we develop a plan, our priorities are:

- 👥 Community Oriented — Focusing on our communities' education, economic, civic/social, and health priorities

 Future Facing — Anticipating and shaping the future of education, the future of work, and the future of our communities

 Leveraging Partnerships — Extending access to a broad array of educational programs through strategic partnerships

The next 10 years will define us as a community.

Share your voice and be a part of the change.
