

YCCD Strategic Planning Session: The Future of Higher Education

Facilitated by Julie Bruno and Johnnie Terri

Friday, January 15, 2021

9:00 – 10:30 a.m.

Zoom: <https://cccconfer.zoom.us/j/97282106086>

As you know the future of higher education is at a crossroad and the Covid-19 pandemic has accelerated emerging trends that were already beginning to impact higher education. These are disruptive and challenging times. However, we are also faced with an opportunity to proactively co-create the future we want and identify new and powerful ways to meet the needs of our current and future students.

Come join us in a facilitated discussion where we will explore the following questions:

- What does the higher education environment look like post Covid-19?
- How does YCCD transform the lives of our students and the futures of the communities we serve?
- What is the most important learning, personal and consumer experience that we need to deliver to our students?
- How can we operate on a scale that yields productivity gains to cover our rising costs? How does District Services support the colleges in the future?

The themes and data from this workshop will inform the development of the new District Strategic Plan that contains the District Mission, Vision, and Goals and articulates where we as an institution want to be in the future. Your participation in this process is critical, and we hope you can attend!

Below are links to two readings to help frame the discussions. Additional information on the YCCD Strategic Plan development process can be found at: <https://www.yccd.edu/central-services/education-and-planning/strategic-plan-development-process/>.
